

Military Coup

20/20

by Kari Barclay and Stardust Doherty

Impeachment

It's the year 2020. The President has been re-elected, the climate is heating up, and the economy is in meltdown. Now, it's up to all of us to figure out what happens next. In this 60-minute satirical participatory performance, audience members choose from a list of eight possible scenarios they want staged: impeachment? a coup? a revolution? 20/20 asks what people power looks like in a time of vast uncertainty when even choosing to do nothing at all has its consequences.
